

The Walther Schücking Institute for International Law at Kiel University, Germany, (Prof. Dr. Nele Matz-Lück) seeks a post-doctoral research associate as of now until 31 December 2022.

The regular working hours amount to 19,35 hours per week as a 50% part-time job. Salary is determined according to the provisions of the current wage agreement applicable to remuneration group 13 TV-L. (Information can be found at <http://www.tdl-online.de/tarifeinigung.html>, Tarifeinigung vom 02.03.2019, p. 8.) There is teaching obligations associated with the position of two hours per week per semester.

Requirements:

- Completed post-graduate university degree (Master, First State Examination in Law or a comparable domestic or foreign qualification)
- Completed Ph.D.
- Preferable discipline of university degree and/or Ph.D.: philosophy, law, political science, social sciences
- Knowledge of theories of justice, especially environmental justice
- Relevant knowledge of proposal writing for acquisition of third-party funding
- Experiences with interdisciplinary research
- Very good language skills in both German as well as English

Knowledge of international law, marine sciences or marine environmental protection is desirable.

Job description:

- Research in the field of environmental justice
- Development of content for the DFG graduate school “Ocean Justice”
- Organisation of and participation in meetings with the working group members
- Presentation of status of work at meetings of the project partners
- Transfer and compilation of research findings in the proposal writing phase
- Acquisition of qualifications concerning the scientific supervision of third-party funded projects

Kiel University sees itself as a modern and cosmopolitan employer. We welcome applications independent of age, sex, cultural and social background, religion, worldview, disability or sexual identity. We support diversity and equal treatment of all genders.

Women with comparable suitability, qualifications and specialist abilities will be given preferential consideration in the selection process.

Kiel University is active in its support for the employment of disabled persons. For this reason, disabled persons will be given preferential treatment over other equally qualified applicants.

Kiel University also warmly welcome applicants with a migration background.

If you have any questions on the wage agreements or on procedural issues, Ms Christiane Voss will be happy to assist you: e-mail cvoss@uv.uni-kiel.de, phone +49 431 880-4900.

If you have questions regarding the job description, please contact Prof. Dr. Nele Matz-Lück by e-mail (nmatz@wsi.uni-kiel.de).

To apply, please send your curriculum vitae and a motivation letter - preferably in electronic form - by 17:00 CEST on 30 September 2020 to

Walther-Schücking-Institut für Internationales Recht
Christian-Albrechts-Universität zu Kiel
Prof. Dr. Nele Matz-Lück
Westring 400
24118 Kiel
Germany
e-mail: nmatz@wsi.uni-kiel.de

We explicitly renounce the submission of application photos, so please refrain from sending any.

Application documents received by post will not be returned but will be destroyed once the recruitment process has been completed.